

UNIVERSITY OF CAPE TOWN

UK Alumni Bursary Programme

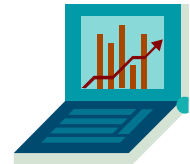

A number of UK based alumni have made contributions to the UK Alumni Bursary Fund which is currently supporting four students at UCT. All of these students come from disadvantaged backgrounds and are the first in their family to attend university.

A.B. lives in Delft, in the Western Cape. He is the first of five siblings to attend university, and is currently studying for a Diploma in Theatre Performance. A. has a keen passion for arts and culture, and is a jack-of-all-trades, being an actor, writer, director, traditional poet and a musician. He runs his own community theatre organisation and facilitates community building workshops. He was voted the best learner in languages at high school, and enjoys acting, reading and writing.

K.M. comes from Diepkloof in Gauteng and is undertaking a Performance Diploma in Music. His father supports the family with his modest income as a messenger. Kabelo is the first of three siblings to attend university. He loves music and the arts, and has shown consistent academic strength throughout his schooling career. K. was president of the Student Representative Council at school. In 2005, he organised a charity concert, the proceeds which went to the elderly in his community. He enjoys reading, playing tennis and soccer.

X.C. lives in Bonteheuwel in the Western Cape. He is the first of four siblings to attempt tertiary studies, and is presently in his third year of the Bachelor of Business Science degree. He believes that his studies will open up doors of opportunities for him and his family. M. passed his final year at school with distinction, and was Head-boy. He is also an active member of the Anglican Church, and in his spare time, he enjoys reading, writing and listening to music.

M.A. lives in Kroonstad in the Eastern Cape. Her father owns a homeopathic shop, and her mother is unemployed. She is currently in her third year of the Bachelor of Social Science degree, and is the first of two siblings to attempt tertiary studies. X. was both a member of the Students' Representative Council, and a member of her residence's house committee, and is an avid member of SHAWCO, UCT's community outreach organisation. In her spare time, she enjoys playing hockey.

Thank you so much to all the UK Alumni Donors who have made this bursary possible.

If you wish to make a contribution to this bursary, and help young students from disadvantaged backgrounds to live and learn at UCT, please contact Angela Ross at uct.alumni.uk@tecres.net.

All donors are kept updated about the bursary recipients and their progress.
